

Barbara-Anne Faison, M.D.

Dr. Barbara-Anne Faison joined the team of physicians at Omni Family Medical Clinic, S.C. in February 2009. She is a native of New York City, New York, and has been practicing medicine in the Milwaukee area for over 25 years. Dr. Faison received her medical degree from Meharry Medical College, School of Medicine in Nashville, Tennessee. She completed both a family medicine residency and internship at Charles R.

Drew Postgraduate Medical School affiliated with Martin Luther King Jr. General Hospital in Los Angeles, California.

Dr. Faison was most recently the Medical Director at Med Alliance Pain Management Center in Glendale, WI. She was also the former Executive Vice President for the Women's Center for Cardiovascular Research where she co-produced "Silent Threat", a documentary on women's cardiovascular health. Dr. Faison worked as a family medicine practitioner for both Isaac Coggs Health Center and NorthPoint Medical Group in Milwaukee prior to opening her own private practice in 1985. With an extensive background in the areas of family practice, pain management, and women's health, Dr. Faison is dedicated to providing the best primary care to her patients.

Dr. Faison is a member of the National Medical Association, Meharry Alumni Association, Wisconsin Medical Society, Cream City Medical Association, and Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc.

Dr. Faison is now accepting new patients, and offers early appointment hours for working professionals beginning at 7:00 am.